

Great Street Appeal

This building formally used as a office building has great street appeal to the busy Gordon Street (Riddoch Highway).

The front building is a small residence or office building which has a kitchenette and at the rear of the building is a second office, storage area, toilet and bathroom.

The shed at the rear has a large roller door which opens to a large workshop area, internal kitchen area with toilet and bench or could be used as a display area. There is also a office and boardroom in the shed.

Overall a great site to have a business.
